Taking over any business is a challenge especially the Cauldron. I appreciate the amazing support that the community has shown. You all told me that you were relieved that I was the one who took over the Cauldron. Let me say “It’s easier to create a new restaurant that it is to take over a restaurant” especially when that restaurant is the Cauldron. Everyone has so many memories of their experiences at the restaurant over the years. I’ve listened to the comments everybody shared with me this year. We will work to be hard this season to keep the Spirit of the Cauldron alive and well.
